DR. PRYSTOWSKY’S 31ST ANNUAL EP FELLOWS SEMINAR: INTERPRETING THE UNKNOWN ELECTROGRAM

Program Description
This one-day, intensive course is designed to educate EP fellows on effective approaches to using intracardiac electrograms to best diagnose and treat arrhythmias. The faculty will review key factors to understanding arrhythmogenic electrocardiographic features. Audience members volunteer to work with the faculty members to interpret the tracings.

Learning Objectives
▪ Define an approach to diagnosing complex arrhythmias
▪ Accurately interpret intracardiac electrograms of supraventricular and ventricular arrhythmias
▪ Analyze the response to various electrophysiological pacing maneuvers
